1. INTRODUCTION

This Audit Service Providers (ASPs) Manual (Manual) contains important guidance for ASPs providing services to the Auditor-General for New South Wales (Auditor-General) and the Audit Office of New South Wales (Audit Office). It also details processes the Audit Office uses to:

- manage the ASPs it engages
- verify the services ASPs provide to ensure they meet its needs.

The Audit Office continuously reviews the ASP oversight arrangements and reporting obligations with the aim of making the arrangements more efficient, effective and compliant with latest NSW Government pronouncements and industry standards.

2. AUDITING IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR

Public sector audits provide important checks and balances to our system of government. They ensure there is accountability, integrity and transparency in the management and use of public resources, which is fundamental in building community trust.

Auditing in the public sector includes recognition that the auditor’s role goes beyond issuing an opinion on an auditee’s financial report. It involves working with public sector entities to generate insights that inform and challenge government, with the ultimate goal to improve outcomes for citizens.

Each year, the Auditor-General’s Reports to Parliament highlight sector wide themes to assess performance and benchmark across the sector. The Reports provide insights to improve the financial reporting, internal controls and performance of public sector entities and councils. In addition to auditing financial statements, parliament allows the Auditor-General to examine matters arising during engagements that involve wastage of public resources, and lack of probity or financial prudence in the management or application of public resources.

The broader mandate of a public sector audit does mean balancing audit efficiency with audit effectiveness. Achieving the latter sometimes means investing more time on certain procedures, focusing on key areas or themes each year, and applying lower thresholds when determining the scope of our audits.

From a practical perspective, this generally means each audit will:

- have regard for evaluating an auditee’s system of internal control, which includes considering: the control environment; the risk management framework; control activities; the quality and effectiveness of information and communications; and monitoring of activities
- assess the design and implementation, and test the operating effectiveness (where appropriate), of key internal controls (including information technology controls) implemented by an auditee to manage its risks
- review the governance and practices of specific areas of focus each year e.g. project management, procurement practices, use of credit cards
- assess compliance with key legislation and central agency policy directives
- have regard for financial prudence, significant waste and probity.

The value generated from a public sector audit includes insights aimed at improving financial management, fiscal responsibility, governance and performance of public sector entities for the benefit of all citizens.
General expectations of ASPs

ASP are expected to:

- recognise and promote the Auditor-General as the appointed auditor
- understand and act in accordance with the principles set out in the Audit Office’s Statement of Business Ethics, available on the Audit Office’s website
- understand and act in a way that is consistent with the principles set out in the Audit Office’s:
  - Audit and Assurance policies
  - Governance policies
- have quality assurance systems that comply with Auditing Standard ASQC 1 ‘Quality Control for Firms that Perform Audits and Reviews of Financial Reports and Other Financial Information, Other Assurance Engagements and Related Services Engagements’ and APES 320 ‘Quality Control for Firms’
- use an audit methodology that complies with the requirements of Australian Auditing Standards and Australian Pronouncements of Ethical Standards
- observe ethical standards and professional independence requirements including APES 110 ‘Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards)’
- adhere to all requirements in the Agreement to Provide Auditing Services
- have the necessary skills, competence and experience to undertake a public sector audit (see next section) as an agent of the Auditor-General
- ensure staff assigned to engagements have appropriate professional qualifications, skills, competence and experience
- resource the audit team sufficiently so it can perform the engagement within the agreed timetable
- communicate with, follow the instructions of, and report to the group Engagement Controller (EC) where the engagement is a component within a group
- consult with the Audit Office:
  - on difficult and contentious issues
  - on the form and content for all written communications with auditees using the Audit Office templates and stationery
  - at agreed stages of the audit and under agreed conditions
  - on any intention to subcontract, outsource or ‘off-shore’ any component of a contracted audit
- obtain the Auditor-General’s written approval to provide any other service, including internal audit services, system implementations, and advice on accounting treatments and transactions to an auditee or a parent or related entity of the auditee during the period of appointment
- comply with the Audit Office’s Gifts, Benefits and Hospitality policy. The ASP is required to notify the Auditor-General if an auditee offers the ASP a gift or benefit in excess of $25
- comply with the Audit Office’s Third Party Security Policy.
Specific considerations of public sector audits

This Manual outlines specific requirements for ASPs when auditing in the public sector. ASPs are required to:

- understand and apply the wider mandate of the Auditor-General as outlined in the ‘Role of the Auditor-General’ section below
- adhere to secrecy provisions and protect the confidentiality of information gained in the course of an audit. In the public sector, specific laws and regulations protect the confidentiality of personal information. These include section 38 of the Public Finance and Audit Act 1983 (PF&A Act), section 425 of Local Government Act 1993 (LG Act), the Privacy and Personal Information Protection Act 1998 and the Health Records Information Act 2002
- understand the additional reporting requirements to parliament and those charged with the governance of auditees as outlined in the ‘Reporting by the Auditor-General’ section below
- audit the auditee’s compliance with significant legislative requirements
- develop an audit strategy that is both efficient and meets the needs of parliament, and assesses the effectiveness of systems of internal control
- focus on generating relevant insights and outcomes
- move from an ethos of separation – separate teams, roles, contract auditors and stakeholders – to one of connection where we collaborate with each other and are viewed as one audit team from the perspective of the auditee
- be agile in how we work, promoting creativity, collaboration, flexibility and diversity of opinions.

Audit Office policy on audit independence and rotation

ASPs are required to observe requirements of applicable legislation including the Corporations Act 2001 (Corps Act) and requirements of relevant Australian auditing, assurance and ethical standards.

The Audit Office has detailed policies to ensure ASPs are independent. ASPs are required to comply with Audit Office policies on ‘Rotation of staff on assurance engagements’ and ‘Conflict of interest and professional independence’.

Additional services provided by ASPs

The Auditor-General is only mandated to perform audit or audit related services for the entities we are required to audit. However, ASPs engaged by the Audit Office are not constrained by our mandate and may undertake additional non-audit related services. ASPs are required to comply with the Audit Office policy Approval to perform additional services, which requires ASPs to obtain the Auditor-General’s (or their delegate’s) written approval before commencing an engagement to provide:

- other audit and audit related services
- non-audit related services.

The Auditor-General’s approval to provide any additional service is required, regardless of whether the work will be performed directly or indirectly, for the auditee or, in the case of a group audit, another component entity within the group.

ASP firms should use the:

- Approval to perform other audit and audit related services form for approval to perform other audit and audit related services
- Approval to perform non-audit related services form for approval to perform non-audit related services.

ASPs should submit completed forms to the EC for approval. The Audit Office will review the forms and the EC will advise the ASP of the outcome.

1 The PF&A Act is expected to be renamed as the Government Sector Audit Act 1983 on 30 June 2020.
3. ROLE OF THE AUDITOR-GENERAL

The Auditor-General’s responsibilities

The Auditor-General is part of the mechanism by which parliament holds the government accountable for the use of public resources. The Audit Office helps the Auditor-General fulfill this role.

The Auditor-General is required to act in the public interest without fear or favour to maintain public and parliamentary confidence. The powers and duties of the Auditor-General are primarily set out in the PF&A Act. However, other acts may also confer powers and duties upon the Auditor-General. These acts include the LG Act and the Corps Act.

The PF&A Act sets stringent requirements for the appointment and removal of the Auditor-General. This gives parliament confidence the Auditor-General will act independently.

The Auditor-General has the functions conferred or imposed on the Auditor-General by law. The Auditor-General’s functions under the PF&A Act include:

• auditing the Total State Sector Accounts and the financial statements of New South Wales public sector agencies with the objective of expressing an opinion on the financial statements
• providing audit and related services to the parliament, the Treasurer and Ministers on request
• reporting to parliament
• identifying waste of public resources, or lack of probity or financial prudence in the management or application of public resources
• conducting performance audits of agencies’ activities
• conducting audits of agencies’ compliance with laws and regulations
• performing anything incidental to the exercise of the Auditor-General’s functions.

The Auditor-General’s functions under the LG Act include:

• auditing local and county councils’ (collectively referred to as councils), joint organisations’ (JOs) and, where applicable, council entities’ financial statements with the objective of expressing an opinion on the financial statements
• providing audit and related services to a council or JO at the request of the council / JO, the Minister for Local Government or the Chief Executive of the Office of Local Government (OLG)\(^2\)
• reporting to parliament
• conducting performance audits of the activities of councils, JOs and, where applicable, council entities
• conducting audits of councils’, JOs and, where applicable, council entities’ compliance with laws and regulations.

The Audit Office’s strategic foundations

The Audit Office’s purpose is ‘to help parliament hold government accountable for its use of public resources’ and vision is ‘our insights inform and challenge government to improve outcomes for citizens’.

\(^2\) OLG was abolished as a separate agency on 1 July 2019 and is now part of the Department of Planning, Industry and Environment.
The Audit Office values are:

- Pride in purpose – Our work is important, so we set high standards and strive for excellence. Our insights drive better government and have a real impact on issues that affect every citizen in New South Wales.
- Curious and open-minded – Our people are empowered to look outward and find the best ways and question the status quo. We are constantly curious and open to challenge.
- Valuing people – People are at the heart of what we do. Every member of our team. Our stakeholders. The people of New South Wales. We support, trust and respect our people. We work as a team.
- Contagious integrity – Behaving with the highest levels of integrity is fundamental to who we are. We set a high standard and inspire others to do the same. We set the example.
- Courage (even when it's uncomfortable) – We are impartial and objective. We listen and learn and strive for a balanced view. But we are not afraid to ask the uncomfortable questions and speak the uncomfortable truth.

It is expected that ASPs live these values in the conduct of their audit work.

The Auditor-General is required to:

- have regard to professional standards and practices
- comply with all/any relevant legislative requirements
- not question the merits of policy objectives of government or of a council or JO.

4. REPORTING BY THE AUDITOR-GENERAL

Audit Office templates

ASPs are required to prepare all reports and formal correspondence with management and those charged with governance of the auditee using Audit Office templates. Where a report or document will be presented to the auditee in hard copy, the ASP should send a soft copy of the draft document to the EC, so it can be issued by the Audit Office. Audit Office templates contain instructions on content, timing, recipients, addressees, background information and other guidance. The ASP is responsible for:

- proposing and discussing the content of written communications to the auditee with the EC
- drafting the correspondence, allowing sufficient time for the EC’s review. The EC will sign and send all written communications to the auditee.

Written communications (other than the Independent Auditor’s Report and the Report on the Conduct of the Audit) are only intended for the parties to whom they addressed and must not be made publicly available.

The latest version of Audit Office templates is available on the Audit Office website.

Independent Auditor’s Reports

ASPs are responsible for recommending the form and content of the Independent Auditor’s Report (IAR) consistent with requirements of Australian Auditing Standards. ASPs should include the recommended audit opinion in the Audit Service Provider Representation Letter.

When forming an opinion on financial information, the ASP is required to consider the auditee’s compliance with statutory and other requirements. An audit response is required if:

- non-compliance with the requirements of an Act, regulation or directive pursuant to an Act may have a material impact on the financial statements, and
- the financial statements include an assertion that draws into question compliance with requirements.
ASP's are required to:

- recommend a qualified opinion where there is significant uncertainty, or non-compliance with laws and regulations that has a material impact on the financial statements
- advise the Audit Office of all instances of non-compliance with statutory obligations. Even if the financial statements appropriately record and disclose the non-compliance, a modified IAR may still be required.

Statutory Audit Reports (state and university sectors only)

The PF&A Act (sections 43(2) and 45I(2)) requires the Auditor-General to report to the Treasurer, the Minister and the agency head, the ‘results of any such inspection or audit and as to such irregularities or other matter that calls for special notice’. The Audit Office meets this requirement by issuing a Statutory Audit Report (SAR). Matters that call for special notice can include matters of governance interest as defined by the Australian Auditing Standards.

ASP’s are responsible for recommending the form and content of the SAR, clearly articulating that either:

- there are no major audit findings, or, all matters raised have been satisfactorily resolved prior to the issue of the IAR and do not need to be reported. Also refer to ‘Compliance with PF&A Act reporting deadlines’ below
- significant issues arose during the audit that require reporting in the SAR (such as the reasons for modifying the IAR, important matters raised in management letters, unresolved issues or issues to which the auditee has not formally responded).

The auditee’s management, those charged with governance, the relevant Minister and the Treasurer should be informed of significant audit findings on a timely basis. However, under the relevant Acts, not all parties are entitled to receive those findings by way of an SAR. Those charged with governance are sent a tailored letter with the findings instead.

ASP’s are responsible for:

- promptly advising the EC if they identify a matter that requires reporting in the SAR
- discussing all matters proposed for inclusion in the SAR with the EC before discussing these with the auditee’s management
- discussing all matters proposed for inclusion in the SAR with the auditee’s management so misunderstandings or inaccuracies can be resolved before the formal report is issued. If the matter is significant, this discussion must include the Secretary or CEO
- presenting a draft SAR at the same time as the recommended IAR.

Interim SARs may be issued at any time during the year if a significant matter requires reporting.

Report on the Conduct of the Audit (local government sector only)

Section 417(3) of the LG Act requires a council’s or JO’s auditor to prepare a Report on the Conduct of the Audit (the Conduct Report). The Conduct Report is issued at the same time as the IAR and incorporates statements and comments the auditor considers appropriate, based on the audit of the council’s /JO’s financial statements.

ASP’s are responsible for recommending the form and content of the Conduct Report. ASPs must present the draft Conduct Report (using the Audit Office template) at the same time as the recommended IAR.
Communications with Ministers
Communications to the portfolio minister (state sector only)

A separate report to the portfolio minister is required for each audit of a State Owned Corporation. The proforma SAR provides guidance on the form and content of this report.

Communications to the Treasurer (state and university sectors only)

Section 31 of the PF&A Act requires the Auditor-General to communicate to the Treasurer matters the Auditor-General considers significant enough to be brought to the Treasurer’s attention. This includes non-compliance with the PF&A Act.

Communications to the Minister for Local Government (local government sector only)

Section 426 of the LG Act requires the Auditor-General to communicate with the Minister for Local Government on all matters under the LG Act or regulations which, in the Auditor-General’s opinion are sufficiently significant to be brought to the Minister’s attention. The Auditor-General meets this requirement by sending a letter to the Minister if matters that require reporting are identified.

ASPs are responsible for promptly advising the EC if they identify a sufficiently significant matter, that requires reporting to the Minister.

Auditor-General’s report to Parliament

Section 52 of the PF&A Act requires the Auditor-General to report to parliament. In these reports, the Auditor-General can make recommendations and suggestions for:

- better collection and payment of public money
- more effective and economic auditing and examining of the Total State Sector Accounts, and the accounts of statutory bodies
- any matters arising from the audit which, in the opinion of the Auditor-General, should be brought to the attention of parliament.

The Auditor-General may also have regard to whether there has been:

- waste of public resources
- lack of probity or financial prudence in the management or application of public resources.

Similar reporting provisions, allowing the Auditor-General to report to parliament on any matter in respect of a State Owned Corporation or a council and joint organisation, are contained respectively within:

- section 25 of the State Owned Corporations Act 1989
- section 421C of the LG Act.

ASPs are expected to contribute to the content of the Auditor-General’s Report as it relates to the auditee. This may include collecting and/or verifying data to support the report drafting process.

Other reports and correspondence with management and those charged with governance

Annual Engagement Plan (AEP)

The AEP covers all matters necessary to establish a clear understanding of the engagement. AEPs are issued to auditees no later than the end of:

- December for 30 June audits included within the scope of the Internal Controls and Governance Auditor-General’s Report (Top 40 state sector agencies)
- February for the remaining 30 June audits
- July for 31 December audits (applies to 2019 engagements onwards).
Letter of Observations on Early Close Procedures (ECPs)

The audit team issues a Letter of Observations on Early Close Procedures, which formally reports its observations of management’s compliance with required early close procedures, the outcomes and the achievement of timeframes.

ASP’s recommend the form and content of the Letter on ECPs and are responsible for providing it to the EC in sufficient time to allow its issue no later than one month after receipt of ECP materials from the auditee (or 31 December for university sector audits).

Compliance with PF&A Act reporting deadlines

ASP’s are responsible for advising the EC if the auditee’s financial statements are not received before the statutory deadline. The EC will arrange for a letter signed by the Auditor-General to be sent to the relevant Minister, Treasurer and auditee’s Board/Department Head/CEO within three working days after the elapsed time for submission.

The ASP is responsible for:
- discussing with the auditee the reasons why the financial statements were not received within the statutory deadline
- informing the auditee that the letter will be sent unless the auditee self-reported its failure to meet the statutory deadline to the relevant Minister, Treasurer and its Board/Department Head.
- including the breach of the PF&A Act as a significant matter in the SAR.

Engagement Closing Report (ECR)

The ECR summarises the audit outcomes. The ECR is addressed to the head of the auditee/General Manager and/or Chair of the Audit and Risk Committee and/or others, depending on the audit team’s assessment of who is charged with the governance.

The ASP recommends the form and content of the proposed ECR so the EC can issue it no later than three working days before the relevant Audit and Risk Committee (ARC) meeting. If there is no ARC meeting, the ECR is required to be issued no later than three working days before the IAR is signed.

Management Letter

ASP’s are responsible for:
- preparing a draft management letter for all engagements where they have identified matters to report
- issuing a management letter immediately if significant matters are identified at any phase of an audit
- agreeing the risk ratings with the EC
- discussing the form, timing and expected content of the management letter with the auditee’s management and those charged with governance
- sending the draft management letter to the EC to review, sign and issue.

Interim management letters detailing issues observed during the planning and interim phases of the engagement should be finalised and issued no later than:
- 30 June for the Top 40 state sector auditees with a 30 June reporting date (those included in the Internal Controls and Governance Auditor-General's Report volume)
- 15 July for all other state sector auditees with a 30 June reporting date
- 31 July for councils with a 30 June reporting date
- 31 December for auditees with a 31 December reporting date.

3 Mandatory early close procedures apply to NSW public sector agencies listed in Appendix A of Treasurer’s Direction ‘TD 19-02 ‘Mandatory Early Close as at 31 March each year’.
ASP should aim to have the EC finalise and issue management letters from the final phase of the engagement no later than the issue of the ECR. If that is not possible, ASPs are required to include extreme and high risk rated observations, together with management’s draft responses, in the ECR. All management letters are required to be issued within six weeks of signing the IAR or by the time the cluster (and, if applicable, Internal Controls and Governance) Report to Parliament is ready for tabling - whichever comes first.

Protected disclosures

The Public Interest Disclosures Act 1994 (PID Act) protects public officials making disclosures that concern:

- corrupt conduct, as defined in the Independent Commission Against Corruption Act 1988 (ICAC Act)
- maladministration, defined for the purposes of 11(2) of the PID Act
- serious and substantial waste
- government information contravention
- local government pecuniary interest contravention.

Disclosures by public officials may be made to:

- the principal officer of an auditee (generally the head of the auditee), or
- another officer of the auditee or investigating authority, or
- an investigating authority, i.e. the Independent Commission Against Corruption, the Auditor-General or the Ombudsman, or
- in certain limited circumstances (refer to the PID Act), a Member of Parliament or journalist.

The Auditor-General, subject to the provisions of the PF&A Act, may conduct an inspection, examination or audit of the ‘serious and substantial waste’ of public money.

The Audit Office’s External Public Interest Disclosures policy sets out the Audit Office staff PIDs may be reported to, what can be reported and how the Audit Office deals with reports.

ASP providing audit services to the Auditor-General have an important role in our internal reporting process. ASPs have a responsibility:

- to identify reports made to them in the course of their work which could be a PID, and
- assist the public official to make a report to a staff member authorised to receive PIDs under the Audit Office’s External Public Interest Disclosures policy.
5. QUALITY ASSURANCE

Quality assurance process

The Audit Office’s quality assurance process is detailed in the following diagram.

The Audit Office Quality Audit Review Committee (QARC) monitors audit quality. Where an audit is selected for review, the QARC will appoint a qualified professional auditor, independent of the engagement team to conduct the review. At the conclusion of the review, the ASP will be provided with a copy of the Quality Review Report detailing the findings from the audits selected for review.

Quality control

The Auditor-General and the Audit Office remain responsible for the audit. ASPs should:

- adequately involve Audit Office staff in key planning meetings either during a planned site visit or by teleconference
- appropriately involve Audit Office staff in key judgments and areas of audit significance or contention throughout the audit
- discuss the audit approach with Audit Office staff. Public sector entities are required to maintain effective systems of internal control. Consequently, the Audit Office prefers a controls reliance approach, where feasible. Even where it is not appropriate to rely on the operating effectiveness of controls, ASPs are expected to test and identify deficiencies in the design and implementation of all relevant controls. This approach helps the Audit Office add value through recommendations that improve public sector accountability and report deficiencies and non-compliance to parliament
- provide Audit Office staff with copies of, or access to, the audit file whilst the audit is in progress to facilitate timely review and identification and resolution of issues
- expect the Audit Office may review completed ASP files following the conclusion of the audit, if the QARC selects the audit as part of its monitoring program
- engage more frequently with the Audit Office if issues arise that may lead to an increase in audit risk, such as significant changes to the audit team, the firm’s methodology, or the operation or condition of the auditee.

Audit planning

ASPs are responsible for:

- making initial contact with both the auditee and the EC early in the relevant financial year to establish a working relationship between all parties
- agreeing the dates for the progressive review of audit working papers and completion of all audit work and reports with the EC
- inviting the EC to the planning meeting to discuss the audit strategy, fraud risk and any compliance audit requirements for the year
- presenting the audit plan to the EC for review before starting any interim audit work
- completing component auditor referral instructions if the audit is part of a group audit (the Audit Office group auditor will send these to the ASP to complete)
- preparing draft engagement deliverables (using the Audit Office templates) and sending these to the EC to review, sign and issue
- completing and sending the Planning section of the Progressive involvement Record to the Audit Office
- presenting the work performed to the Audit Office for review.

Based on this review, and in response to its consideration of audit risk, the Audit Office will confirm the existing audit plan, or may, in consultation with the ASP, recommend an alternative approach to the audit plan.

Audit execution

ASPs are responsible for:

- performing the planned audit procedures including:
  - procedures required by Australian Auditing Standards
  - testing the operating effectiveness of controls including ITCGs (where applicable)
  - performing early close procedures (where applicable)
  - performing substantive procedures
- reviewing the draft financial statements and advising the auditee of recommended changes
- evaluating misstatements, documenting and advising the EC of deficiencies and significant matters
- obtaining support for and following Audit Office policies and procedures for prior period errors and/or change to accounting policies that will be treated retrospectively
- preparing draft engagement reports (using the Audit Office template) and sending these to the EC to review, sign and issue.

Based on this review, the results of testing and a reconsideration of audit risk, the Audit Office will confirm the work performed, or may, in consultation with the ASP, recommend additional procedures.

Audit completion

ASPs are responsible for:

- presenting the work performed, including a review of the audit procedures/work papers since the planning review to the Audit Office for review
- preparing and issuing the Audit Service Provider Representation Letter, including recommending the form and content of the Independent Auditor’s Report
- preparing draft engagement deliverables (using the Audit Office templates) and sending these to the EC to review, sign and issue.

The ASP should send the Execution and Completion section of the Progressive involvement record to the Audit Office at the completion of the audit.
Based on this review, the results of testing and a reconsideration of audit risk, the Audit Office will confirm the work performed, or may, in consultation with the ASP, recommend additional procedures.

7. AUDIT ENGAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION

Audit timetable

The Proforma calendar of events outlines the typical audit process and sets out, in summary, the general timing and flow of documents between the auditee, the ASP and the Audit Office.

Fees

Payment of ASP fees

The Audit Office will pay fees within the agreed terms after the receipt of a correctly rendered invoice and the EC is satisfied that the services have been provided. A correctly rendered invoice is one that includes, at a minimum the following information:

- audit name and year-end
- Audit Office purchase order number.

The Audit Office reserves the right to withhold a payment until the ASP has provided the Audit Office with a report (from its practice management system) of time spent on the audit.

Claims for additional fees

ASPs must seek the EC’s approval before discussing claims for additional fees with the auditee. ASPs must outline the basis for the additional fee and provide relevant supporting documentation. Once the EC has approved the basis for an additional fee, it is the ASP’s responsibility to agree the additional fees in writing with the auditee before seeking reimbursement from the Audit Office. In some cases, the EC may decide to be involved in additional fee negotiations with the auditee.

The Audit Office will not pay any claims for additional fees without upfront auditee approval.

8. PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

Annually, at the end of the assignment, the EC will assess the ASP’s performance against the obligations and expectations outlined in the agreement, this Manual and the quality and timeliness of key deliverables outlined in the calendar of events.

Amongst other things, the annual performance assessment will consider:

- whether the ASP completed the audit in accordance with professional pronouncements and the Audit Office audit and assurance, and governance policies
- the appropriateness of the audit approach and engagement risk assessment
- the quality and sufficiency of working papers to support the audit conclusions
- the sufficiency and effectiveness of the ASP’s quality control procedures on the audit
- the frequency, timeliness and adequacy of communication from the ASP to the Audit Office
- the auditee relationship and managing their expectations
- the level of engagement of senior staff in key auditee meetings/discussions
- the quality and timeliness of draft reports presented to the EC for finalisation
- the performance against agreed milestones for key deliverables
- the level of innovative practices used in the audit.

The results of the ASP’s performance will be shared with the Assistant Auditor-General responsible for managing ASPs and the Financial Audit Executive, who will review the assessment information to determine if any unsatisfactory performance needs to be remedied.

The EC will communicate the results of the annual performance assessment to the ASP at or before the planning phase of the following year’s audit.
Concerns of the ASP and the auditee

The ASP and the auditee may contact the Audit Office with comments, recommendations for improvement or concerns with the audit arrangements or processes. Significant concerns that are not satisfactorily resolved during the audit, can be registered as a complaint. Details of the complaint handling process are available on the Audit Office website: Make a complaint about us.

9. WORKPLACE HEALTH AND SAFETY OBLIGATIONS

The Audit Office is committed to maintaining a high standard of work health and safety (WHS) for everyone who works for the Audit Office and who visits our workplaces. This commitment also extends to contractors such as ASPs.

To achieve and sustain a safe and healthy work environment, the Audit Office expects all ASPs:

- to be responsible for providing a safe and healthy work environment for all workers involved in performing auditing services on behalf of the Auditor-General
- to act in accordance with its obligations under relevant legislation, codes of practice and recognised industry standards and aspires to implement best practices in WHS
- to ensure its workers are provided with appropriate training in respect of the ASPs policies and procedures
- to ensure its workers take reasonable care for their own health and safety and the health and safety of others and comply with any reasonable instructions, policies and procedures that apply to their work in performing the auditing services
- immediately report any work health and safety incident that directly relates to the auditing services to the Auditor-General
- to maintain up to date workers’ compensation insurance in accordance with the relevant workers’ compensation legislation.

To support the commitment to maintaining a high standard of WHS, ASPs are required to provide an annual certification to the Auditor-General. The Audit Office will send out the request for this certification at the end of each calendar year. The ASP must return the signed certification by no later than 30 November. The certification is outlined below:

[ASP name] has designed and implemented an appropriate work health and safety framework, including risk management processes, to ensure it is complying with the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 (NSW) and its own work health and safety obligations. [ASP name] also certifies that the work health and safety framework is operating effectively, and we agree to immediately notify you of any work, health and safety incidents that occur in the conduct of the auditing services.

10. INFORMATION SECURITY AND DATA BREACHES

The Audit Office is committed to securely storing auditee information that is obtained during the course of an audit. It is expected that ASPs will comply with the Audit Office’s Third Party Security Policy. This policy governs the storing of information and infrastructure belonging to the Audit Office. As a general principle, ASPs must have appropriate controls and mitigation processes in place to minimise the risk associated with potential security breaches. From time to time, the Audit Office will ask ASPs to complete an information security self-assessment. It is expected that ASPs will address any information security deficiencies identified from the self-assessment within an agreed timeframe. Failure to do so may result in a breach of contract.

ASP must immediately notify the Audit Office of a cyber incident or breach that relates to any data, systems infrastructure or processes used in its arrangement with the Audit Office. Such notifications should be addressed to the Engagement Controller and the Audit Office’s Professional Services Branch at governance@audit.nsw.gov.au and should be accompanied by completing the Data Breach Response Checklist.
ASPs must notify the Audit Office before advising the auditee of the cyber incident or potential data breach.

11. BREACHES OF CONTRACT

Circumstances may arise that cause the ASP to breach its contract with the Audit Office. If a breach occurs, the EC will evaluate the effect of the breach on the audit relationship. If the ongoing contractual relationship is not affected by the breach, the ASP will be advised a breach has been identified and the contract may be unaffected.

Where the contractual audit relationship is affected by the breach, the ASP will be advised in writing and formally asked to take corrective action.

Where the breach of contract is sufficiently significant, the Audit Office may take steps to terminate the contract.

Examples of a breach of contract could include:

- misrepresentations of the ASP’s qualifications
- failure to comply with Australian Auditing Standards or Australian Pronouncements of Ethical Standards
- audit work of an unacceptable standard or inadequately documented
- failure to meet quality standards
- inability to complete the audit within the specified time
- audit work not in accordance with the agreed audit plan
- suspension of ASP principals or key audit personnel by a professional accounting body
- imposition of an enforceable undertaking, or order, or disciplinary action by regulatory or professional body
- failure to maintain adequate information security controls and/or failure to adequately address any information security deficiencies identified via the information security self-assessment process within the agreed timeframe.

ASPs will be advised if an auditee expresses dissatisfaction with their audit services. The Audit Office will investigate all complaints made. ASPs will be asked to address any valid complaints. Failure to take appropriate corrective action may result in termination of the contract.
